Close and Exciting Game Brilliantly Played on the Navy Field.

SCORE OF FOUR TO THREE

Pollard, of Virginia, Pitched a Masterly Game-Captain of Middies Hero of Day.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) ANNAPOLIS, MD., April 16 .- The most interesting game of base-ball remembered to have been played here took place this afternoon, when the Midshipmen defeated the University of Virginia by a score of four to three. The game was brilliantly played, but the greatest interest arose from the fact of the seesaw manner in which the runs came. Pegram, the captain of the middles, was the special hero of the day, making two two-base hits, which drove in three of the runs scored by the locals. Pegram scored the winning run himself by splendid base running on Mc-Whorter's hit.

Pollard, for Virginia, pitched a masterly game, especially in the early part. He struck out thirteen opposing batsmen, struck out thirteen opposing batsmen, and in the fourth and seventh innings retired the side. Munger and Steurns put up brilliant fielding games, but the play of Virginia on the whole was not as spirited as that which marks the work of most of its teams.

Virginia scored one run in the second inning, and there were no more tailes until the fifth, when Pegram's two-bagger drove in Goldthwaite and Hughes, giving Annapolis the lead. Virginia scored one each in the eighth and ninth, but in the last half Goldthwaite secred his second run on Captain Pegram's two-bagger.

Pegram scored the winning run, with Pegram scored the winning run, who two hands out, on McWhorter's single. To-day's creditable victory for the navy, in connection with the defeat of Buck-nell on Wednesday, 8 to 2, and the good game against the Pannsylvania. Variaty, when the Navy lost 1 to 0, indicates that Annapolis has one of the strongest col-Annapolis has one of the strongest col-lege teams this season, and gives great hope to its supporters that it will will from West Point in the final game of the season. LEXINGTON, VA., April 16 - Washington and Lee University on their grounds this afternoon won a close and exciting game from their local rivals, the cadets of the Virginia Military Institute, by score of 8 to 7. It was a shut-out for cadets up to the sixh inning, in which Goodloe made his accustomed home run over left-field fence.

Trimble, 'Varsity's calcher, while at the bat in the sixth, was struck in the eye by a glanced ball from his bat and was lorced to retire, which weakened the University.

Write for a free copy to-day.
They tell ut my great discovery that practically all diseases can be permanently cured through the Sympathetic Nerves.
Not the herves we feel with, see with, hear with, but the inside nerves.
It is these that unconsciously operate the vital Organia—the Heart, Liver, Kidneys, Erain, etc.
When the incide nerves get run down, that Organ which is weakest in the body losse its power to act properly.
It then throws its work upon the other Organs.
These Organs in turn, become affected

That is what my, now famous, prescription—

It provides, through these inside nerves, the power to make the weakest organ do its duty.
It enables weak crams to east off their congring waste matter, and to repair their worn will begin one week from to-morrow night, when the baton of Conductor George E. Gookins will start such a wave of melody as has newer been heard before in the Academy of M. 16.

This, the eleventh festival, will be a memorable one in the listory of music in Virginia. After a year of constant training and study, the Wednesday Club, with the Boston Festival Orchestra, will slag Handel's great oratoria, "The Messiah." the soloists being the best artists that money could procure.

That will be the magnificent opening to the festival of song, the climax to the springtime overtures in nature, a wave and roll of music divinely inspired and divinely declicated by the great master of yrnyer in song.

General Manager Walter C. Mercer sees nothing but success ahead. He has worked hard and faithfully, as has every member of the club, from Director Gookins to the tinest and shrillest voiced girl in the children's chorus.

To the great chorus, the club will furnish and to the hundreds of voices that the children will lend, there will be added, beside the sweet strains of the Boston Festival Orchestra the voices of these well known artists:

Miss Anita Rio, seprano; Mrs. Shot-well-Piper, soprano; Miss Florence Mulford, contraito; Mrs. Bertha Cushing Child, slite; Jacques Bars, the famous tenor of the Metropolitan Opera; Henry Cowper, tenor; Gwylim Miles and Frederick Martin, basso.
